Teacher Bio:

This will be my 11th year to homeschool. I have 11 children, 1 of which has graduated from high school and is in college seminary for the Archdiocese in Dallas, 7 of which are students at Holy Trinity and 3 that just follow me wherever I go. I have a degree from A&M in education. I love to read and think the best way to learn is to immerse oneself in great literature. I'm still learning every year how to educate my kids better. It's a journey but I try to rely on God to navigate for me.
